SCIENTIFIC ENTERTAINMENT.

Four Methods of Making Needles and Pins Float on Water.

Let fall upon a sheet of glass a drop of water; the drop will spread and flatten. Let fall upon the glass a drop of mercury; the drop will retain its spherical form. These different effects arise from the fact that the water wets or adheres to the surface of the glass; the mercury does not.

Now take an ordinary pin thoroughly dry. This is an object which water can moisten, but less easily than glass. If by some means or other you can manage to lay it on the water without wetting it, you will see the water take a convex shape on either side of the pin, and this latter displacing a proportionate body of water will float on the surface just as a lucifer match would do.

The same experiment may be performed with a needle, and it must not be supposed that a very fine needle or pin alone is suitable. With the precautions hereafter indicated you may succeed even with a darning needle. The only point to be explained is how to lay the pin or needle on the water so lightly that it shall not be wetted. There are various methods of doing this.

You may suspend the needle or pin from two loops of thread, one at each end, gently withdrawing them when the article floats. A good deal of care will, however, be necessary to prevent the thread in the act of removal from displacing the needle.

Again, you may, if you are sufficiently adroit, take the pin by its point and let it sink down gently on the water, releasing it at the moment when the pin and its reflection in the water merge into one another. An exceptionally steady hand is needed for this method.

A more simple plan is to lay the pin across the prongs of a fork, which you lower gently into the water, bringing it gradually from the horizontal to the vertical position. This is a much more practical method than either of the two preceding, but nevertheless demands a good many rehearsals before it can be made use of with success.

In conclusion, here is a final "wrinkle" by the aid of which a child might perform the experiment with ease. You have only to place on the water a cigarette paper, lay the pin upon it and allow the paper as it becomes saturated to sink to the bottom, when the pin will float upon the water without the least difficulty. You may then gently remove the paper with a spoon or wire, thereby concealing from the spectators the artifice you have employed.—Philadelphia North American.

Sundays In Australia.

Sunday in most of the capitals of Australian provinces is not an enlivening day. Concert and theatrical entertainments are contrary to the law, hotels are rigorously closed as far as the general public is concerned, and if a publican is caught dispensing liquor he is heavily fined. Steamers and trains are run only on sufferance, although the shops are allowed to remain open. In Melbourne, however, no shopkeeper is allowed to sell even a bottle of ginger beer or a dozen of apples. Yet Melbourne is the only town where concerts are held on Sunday, and once they were high class, but as no charge can be made for entrance they have retrograded in character. An audience is admitted to the concert hall or theater bit by bit, each man or woman having to contribute to a collection made at the door as they enter. Sometimes, however, the plate is taken round the seats, as in church. —London Figaro.

New Filling For Thermometers.

A new filling for thermometers to take the place of quicksilver, which often solidifies in cold weather, has been found in tulnol. It is extracted from coal tar. It contains absolutely no water, can stand a much lower temperature than quicksilver without freezing and when exposed to warmth extends with great regularity. Besides possessing these admirable properties, it is very cheap, and, as it is much lighter than quicksilver, the tube of the thermometer can be made much larger than is now usual, and thus it will not only be much easier to read the record, but greater exactitude in registration will be secured. The dark blue color of tulnol is another element which will contribute to the ease of reading the thermometer.—Detroit Free Press.

A Queer Remedy.

Francis Grose, whose work on the popular superstitions of the day was compiled in the year 1787, says: "The peasants of Suffolk have a simple and never failing cure for ague. It is this: Write the word 'Abacadabara' in form as shown below; place it in a nutshell and wear the same about the neck." The form is here given:

A Terrapin Farm.

A terrapin farm consists of canals with narrow ridges of land between. The ends of the canals are so secured that it is impossible for the terrapin to escape, and the entire farm is surrounded by a high fence.—Kate Field's Washington.

AMONG THE SPANISH.

Their Interesting Capital—Works of the Old Masters—Spanish Women.

Madrid is a city with avenues even on a wider scale than our Washington. It is a barren country in the vicinity, and the people generally appear to live on the government. The elevation makes it a very cold city. It is an interesting one to the stranger chiefly from its gallery of paintings. This is said to be the finest in Europe, and in some respects it probably is. I can give you no description of them. They are my first experience on an extended scale of the old masters. I was prepared to be disappointed in them, but am happily not at all so.

The old masters, as I see them here, are to the world of art what the Yosemite valley is to the world of nature. There is no exaggerating their beauty and effectiveness, and no one with an appreciation of the ideal need fear disappointment in beholding them. In comparison with modern works, I am almost led to advance the inquiry if painting in its highest achievement has become a lost art? One might spend months in the study of the astonishing masterpieces in this Madrid gallery.

The Spanish people are to a great extent poor, as the degree to which beggary exists among them seems to prove. The land everywhere is thoroughly cultivated. It is apparently fertile in the south, but less so as one approaches the interior. There are almost no trees except trees that bear fruit, principally the olive and the orange. In the vicinity of Barcelona one is amazed to see the extent to which cultivation is carried. In the most barren and rocky ground a grapevine is sure to be planted.

Soldiers are everywhere seen. They are not formidable in appearance. I have seen the army on drill in the king's palace yard, and poorer drilling I never saw in the rawest recruits of a volunteer company with us. Perhaps it is the lack of attention to this that makes them so little soldierly in appearance. The dignity of a Boston policeman would put the best of them in the shade. They are almost universally undersized men and seem to be but a burlesque as successors of the celebrated Spanish infantry of Charles V and Philip II. There is absolutely nothing of our standard military bearing about them.

The Spanish women are much what one is led to expect from description we have had of them. Their style of beauty is hardly that of our country, and if one may judge from the photographs that appear to represent its ideal the Spanish taste is not ours in this respect. A white skin seems to be the standard among the women, and there is a plentiful use of powder to procure it. Most of the women wear no hats, but in the cities it is becoming more common to cover the head in this way, and the mantilla and veil threaten to pass away in time.

The women pay more attention to their hair than to any other part of their persons. It is always neatly dressed and glossy, and they have rare taste in its arrangements. There is an almost total absence of gray hair except among those advanced in age, and even with them gray hair is by no means the rule. The population is nearly all native. Madrid differs from our large cities in not being at all cosmopolitan. One sees only Spanish types of face here. Barcelona, being a seaport and much dependent upon its commerce, might be supposed to have more people of other nations in its streets, but I saw very few of them there. The absence of Jews throughout the country is remarkable. I doubt if there are 500 Jews in all Spain.—Boston Herald.

A Very Correct Gorilla.

At the aquarium in Berlin there is a big gorilla whose habits are a great deal more correct than those of most of his distant relatives. He gets up at 8 o'clock in the morning, takes a bath and uses soap without hesitation. When his toilet is completed, he takes a cup of milk, after which he eats two loaves of bread, with Frankfort sausages and smoked Hamburg beef, all of which he moistens with a glass of lager beer. At 1 p. m. he takes a bowl of soup, with rice and potatoes, and a wing of a chicken. He uses his knife and fork and his napkin like a born aristocrat, but when he thinks that his keepers are not observing him he discards the implements of civilization and plunges his muzzle into the bowl, as if to give evidence of the melancholy fact that even a gorilla can be a hog.—London Million.

Double or Binary Stars.

All stars appear single to the naked eye, but the use of the telescope has proved that many consist of two or more distinct orbs. When the astronomer Herschel first began to make a special observation of double stars, only four were known. He increased the number to 500, and now about 7,000 are catalogued by astronomers. Some have argued that these stars only appear to be double because they are on the same line of vision, but Herschel, after many years of investigation, was convinced that in hundreds of cases they actually revolve around each other, thus proving beyond a doubt that there is an actual relationship between such pairs of orbs.—St. Louis Republic.

A Man of Nerve.

The thistle does not sting if it be firmly grasped. The ghost runs away when one walks straight up to it. When Louis Napoleon was president of the French republic, the commander at Lyons was General Castellane, an old soldier, whose stern rule kept in check the Red Republicans of that disorderly city. It was a time when courage on the part of the people might have spared the French nation from the long humiliation of the second empire. Unfortunately for them, the nerve was enlisted on the side of the man who afterward became emperor, and the Republicans could boast much, but do little.

One of the most radical and boisterous of the Republicans of Lyons was a barber, who openly boasted that he only waited for the opportunity of ridding the city of its stern commander. The general heard of the threat, and one afternoon ordered his coachman to drive to the barber's shop. Leaving his carriage, the general, unattended, entered the shop, took a seat in a vacant chair and desired the barber to shave him. The astonished braggart performed the operation as well as his nervousness would permit. When he had finished, the general, while paying him, quietly said:

"Monsieur, since you have not availed yourself of the opportunity to cut my throat which I have given you, would it not be well for you to refrain from uttering threats that you have not the courage to carry out?"—Pittsburg Dispatch.

He Showed Them How.

Captain J. R. Kenly, in his "Memoirs of a Maryland Volunteer," describes with evident satisfaction a little scene in the city of Jalapa during the Mexican war. The United States troops were in garrison in the town. Everything was quiet, and the inhabitants and the soldiers were on very good terms. One day the captain noticed a soldier looking with great interest at some native masons laying brick. They were at work upon a platform elevated perhaps a dozen feet from the ground, up to which a man was carrying mortar upon his head on a square board instead of a hod.

The masons stood immediately in front of the wall they were constructing, placed each brick separately on its bed, used a plumb line, square, etc., to see that each brick was correctly aligned and occupied as much time in laying half a dozen bricks as an American mechanic would use in laying a hundred.

"Captain," said the soldier, "may I go up and show those men how to work?"

"Certainly, if you are a bricklayer."

He mounted the platform, one of the Mexicans gave him his trowel, and he went to work, the Mexicans looking on with the greatest interest and admiration. No doubt they profited by the lesson.

Manna.

Few know that manna is a species of gum which exudes from the ash. The true manna ash is the Fraxinus ornus. It is a beautiful tree and has much handsomer flowers than any other ash. In some parts of Sicily trees are planted especially for these substances which they yield, just as in some parts of our country the sugar maple is planted for its sugar. The ash trees are tapped when about 10 years old. A transverse cut is made about one-third of the circumference of the tree, a number of these transverse cuts being made one above the other. As many as 45 cuts are frequently made in one large trunk.

In some countries where manna is collected it is done by inserting tubes, just as is the case of collecting the maple sugar, but where these cuts are made the gum runs down the trunk and hardens. The following season cuts are made just above those of the previous year. After this has been three years in progress the stems are cut down and the new crop of shoots left to get matured. Sometimes, however, the stems are left standing four years before being finally cut away.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Eugenie and the Bat.

In one of the letters of the late Octave Feuillet to his wife, recently published in Paris, there is an interesting anecdote of the Empress Eugenie. At Fontainebleau one evening, while the empress was serving tea to a party of which the author was one, a bat flew in at the window, and a gentleman promptly knocked it down with a cane. At Eugenie's request the stunned creature was brought to her and laid on her desk. The empress began to fondle the bat, stroking its repulsive breast with her delicate fingers and stretching out its wings. Then she opened its mouth, thrust a straw in and blew into its lungs to reanimate it. "But the loveliest mouth in the world blew in vain," says Feuillet, and courtier that he was he seized the opportunity to say that "the bat, to be insensible to such an honor, must be dead indeed."—New York World.

First Drummer—Harg the luck! The firm has sent me only one of my two checks this week.

Boston Diplomacy.

A really fine function was on the tapis, and mother and daughters had planned for weeks for it. As they were waiting for the carriage the servant brought to the matron a letter. She had every reason to think that it contained news which would prevent their going out as planned, and the manner in which she rose superior to the occasion is worthy of note and does credit to her diplomacy if not to her heart.

"Girls," said she, entering the room. "I have just received a letter in a black bordered envelope from New York, where, you know, Uncle William has been seriously ill for"——

"Great heavens!" exclaimed the girls, bursting into tears.

"There is every reason to suppose—don't make your noses red, for gracious sake—to suppose that it contains sad news, but"——

"But, maw," exclaimed the quartet, "look at our new gowns and—everything."

"Exactly," continued mamma. "I was going on to say that while the worst is to be feared, on the other hand we really know nothing definite as yet, and considering everything I have concluded not to open the letter until tomorrow morning."

Italian Asbestus.

Some of the characteristics of Italian asbestus have given a decided preference for that article, it seems, over the American for certain manufacturing purposes. The Italian mineral lies in beds and pockets which are mostly reached by open quarrying, dynamite being largely employed in this operation. The lumps as they are taken from the mine consist of bundles of hard fibers, lying parallel to one another and strongly bound together. They vary in color from light gray to brown, the general appearance of a fine sample being suggestive of the interior of the riven trunk of a tree.

By the exercise of a little care threads may be separated many feet or even yards in length, the continuity being perfect from end to end, the general appearance and strength being very similar to those of flax. It is this characteristic of length and strength of fiber and its chemical purity that are said to distinguish Italian asbestus from all others. Still another peculiarity remains to be mentioned, —namely, a certain greasy feeling resembling that of French chalk or soapstone.—New York Sun.

Fontainebleau Forest.

This grand old forest of Fontainebleau is everywhere very beautiful, and, far from being monotonous in character and simply a forest of trees, it has a great variety of other natural beauties. Certain parts contain rocky hills, enriched here and there by thick heath growing on a sandy soil. In places one sees great heaps of rocks of sandstone formation piled one above the other on the slope of the hills, as if large masses of water formerly had rushed through all this country, loosening the immense rocks and heaping them one upon the other. One peculiarity of these rocks is that many of them are formed like great living monsters. When we went into the forest toward nightfall, Francois was always deeply moved. It seemed to him as though we were amid a crowd of antediluvian monsters, and he enjoyed pointing out to me the semblance to living forms of these mysterious shapes.—Pierre Millet in Century.

Results of Curiosity.

Miss Minnetta saw one of her numerous admirers in a barber's chair having a day's growth of beard rasped off with a razor. His face had been coated with a heavy layer of white lather, but when she saw him one side had been scraped clean, and as he caught a glimpse of her the unlathered side turned a bright crimson in deep contrast with the white side. This has occurred so often that the Indianapolis girls wonder why there are no blinds to the men's part of tonsorial establishments, as at the windows of the women's part. One barber says:

"Ef de windows had blin's, we couldn't see de ladies go by, sah."

The young men who patronize the barber shops say that if the girls would not look into the windows to see if their dresses are hanging plumb they would not see their half shaved admirers wrapped up in towels.—Indianapolis News.

The Romans at Table.

A dish was prized for its oddity, rarity or costliness. Mighty curious reading are the accounts that come down to us of the great Roman "spreads," such as that which Lentulus gave on his election to the office of flamen, or that with which Nasidienus mocked Horace and his friends. The menus on these occasions would strike terror to the heart of a modern "maitre d'hotel" or "chef de cuisine."

What would be thought of a dish of echini, or sea hedgehogs, of thrushes served up on asparagus and a fatted hen for course No. 1? Of haunches of wild venison and beccaficos (fig peckers, "Curruca hortensis") for the second? Of a sow's udder, a wild boar's cheek, a ragout of fish, ducks, hares, boiled teal, capers, furmenty and Picentian bread for the third?—All the Year Round.

THERE will be four tickets in the field in Merced county—Prohibition, Populist, Democratic and Republican.

MOSE HEYMAN, who has been in the habit of teaching a bull on Pender's ranch, near Vallejo, "tricks," was tossed by the animal last Wednesday and larcerated in an ugly manner.

TURPIN, the Frenchman who invented melinite, has sold to Germany for 5,000,000 francs, the secret of the electric chariot, which is expected to produce a terrifying effect in war.

BARONESS ROQUEZ, mother of Mrs. Maybrick, now undergoing a sentence of imprisonment for life in an English prison for poisoning her husband, is making an effort to have the English Home Office reopen her daughter's case.

BARRY BALDWIN of San Francisco has been selected by President Cleveland to be Marshal for the northern district of California. His opponent for the appointment was ex-Marshal Frank, who was backed up by Justice Field.

THE estate of Len Harris, the detective who was recently killed at Boulder Creek, has been appraised at $1,500. For a man that has been employed for over a quarter of a century to risk and eventually lay down his life to protect the property of others the dead detective's estate strikes us as being exceedingly small. A man could make more money sawing wood.

THE Fraser river freshet in British Columbia continues unabated and hourly the water increases in volume. The surrounding valleys have been submerged, houses and other buildings have been swept away and thousands of acres of grain destroyed by the inundation. Herds of cattle, several people and flocks of sheep have been drowned, the towns of Chilliwack, Harrison and Centerville mostly swept away and miles of track of the Canadian Pacific carried off.

GEN. JOHN HEWSTON of Oakland, prominent in military circles on this Coast, killed a street musician on the streets of London last Wednesday, and is now in jail charged with manslaughter. He was assaulted by the fellow and defended himself with an umbrella which he carried in his hand. Strange to say a simple thrust with the innocent-looking weapon caused instant death. The point of the umbrella entered the man's left eye and penetrated the brain. As the General is on English instead of American soil he will no doubt have a hard time in securing an acquittal, as the laws are not so lax in that country as in this.

THE South is noted for its sanguinary conflicts, and hardly a day passes that the telegraph does not herald the hanging of a "nigger," or a street duel to the death with pistol or knife. The latest bloody tragedy occurred near Birmingham, Alabama, last Wednesday. In a fit of rage and jealousy Tom Early went into a mine near that place, where Washington Bailey was at work and shot him to death. Then going to Bailey's house, the murderer shot and killed the widow, with whom he had been in love and who had rejected him for Bailey. The murderer was shot and killed by an armed mob soon after he shot the woman.

C. C. RODGE, a Napa county farmer, visited a barbery Coast dive in San Francisco one day this week and became smitten with Bert La Rose, a female impersonaton, whom he mistook for a woman. The masquerader, after getting the Napa hay-seed drunk, robbed him of $250. Rodge returned home a wiser, but a sadder man, while La Rose is in durance vile in San Francisco charged with grand larceny.

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of May, while in Des Moines, en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of Diarrhœa. Having sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy for the past seventeen years, and knowing its reliability, he procured a 25 cent bottle, two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water and diet incident to traveling often produce a diarrhœa. Every one should procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. For sale by all dealers.

"For 9 years I have had a pain in my stomach besides nervousness, weak spells and constant tired feeling. For the first five years I did not doctor much but gradually growing worse, came to this state for the benefit of my health. I was treated by several good physicians but continued to grow worse. For the last year I have been confined to my bed nearly all the time. I became so weak I could stand but a few minutes at a time. I could eat but a little and I fell off in weight from

About four months ago I commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and from that time I have steadily improved in health and gained in by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucuous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucuous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Read what the Rev. Dr. J. K. McLean, Pastor of the First Congregational Church, Oakland, says of it:

Hazel Creek, April 14, '94.

* * * I am more than pleased with it—delighted. The place seems to me to embody all available points for a camp—dry, firm soil, good water (the very best), fine chances for drainage, and scenery unsurpassable. The view of Mt. Shasta is one of the very best to be had from any point; it is visible from every part of the ground. The view of the Crags also is fine. The general environment is of the best. It is an oval-shaped amphitheater, three miles long by one-fourth to ¾ of a mile wide, with receding walls two to three thousand feet in height, with lines and shades of beauty at every reach. I doubt if a better place can be found in all Northern California.

THE LATE RAIN.

More Good than Harm Done—Hay and Cherries but Slightly Damaged.

The rain which fell here on Friday, Saturday and Sunday last did more good than harm. At first it was thought that cut hay in the fields and cherries would be ruined, but reports from all over Sonoma Valley say that both escaped serious damage. Late sown hay and grain, corn, potatoes and beans were greatly benefitted by the precipitation.

Sonoma Day at the Fair.

The Sonoma Valley Band, composed of twenty pieces, will be one of the attractions at the Midwinter Fair on Friday, June 15th, (Sonoma Day.) Sonoma has cause to feel proud of its band and its young leader, Mr. Hugh Maxwell, who has a great future before him in the musical world. The officers of the band are composed of the following gentlemen, all residents of Sonoma and vicinity: H. G. Maxwell, Director; Jesse Burris, Chief Musician; F. L. Clark. Business Manager. The following are the members: Frank Riser, Henry Bates, Carrol Prunty, John Burke, Fred. Bulotti, William Hintz, Robert Wilson, Freido Clewe, Henry Seipp, Frank Carmer. Embarcadero Road Case.

The civil suit instituted by Road Overseer Thompson against Edwin Lord to compel him to open a road which runs through his ranch at Embarcadero, alleged to be a public thoroughfare, has been compromised. Mr. Thompson won the case in the Superior Court of this county over a year ago, and Mr. Lord appealed to the State Supreme Court. By the terms of the compromise the latter withdraws his appeal and pays costs of suit, the penalty for keeping the road closed, amounting to nearly $1,200, being remitted by the county. The road in future will be a public highway.

Nancy Meagher Assassination.

Elizabeth Bryan, charged with being implicated in the assassination of Nancy Meagher, a blind woman, near Petaluma, last winter, will be tried for murder in the Superior Court of this county next month, the case having been set for July 5th. The accused is a sister of the murdered woman. The theory of the prosecution is that the accused and Mrs. Fowler, another sister, entered into a conspiracy to get away with Nancy and her unborn babe, in order to secure an inheritance left by their mother. Johnny Bryan, the sixteen-year-old son of Mrs. Bryan, who is accused of firing the fatal shot, and Mrs. Fowler, will also be tried on the same charge.

HIGH SCHOOL LAW.

Recent Decision of the Supreme that Scared Its Advocates—The Decision is Harmless.

The Supreme Court on Wednesday of last week declared unconstitutional the legislative Act of March 20, 1891, providing for the establishment of High Schools in California. The act was declared fatally defective because it vests the power of making an assessment for maintaining the schools in Superintendents of Schools instead of Boards of Supervisors.

When the decision was given publicity through the columns of the San Francisco Chronicle on Thursday of last week the opponents of our High School system, of which there are a few in every community, Sonoma being no exception to the rule, were in high feather, while its advocates were fearful that the decision would close the doors of their own as well as every other High School in the State until the meeting of the Legislature next winter.

The suit decided was begun in the Superior Court of Contra Costa county in 1892, and subsequently appealed to the Supreme Court, and entered on the calendar, where it has ever since been awaiting its turn for a decision from that tribunal.

In the interim the Legislature of 1893 met and the attention of our law-makers having been called to the faulty section that body anticipated the decision of the Supreme Court which has just been rendered at this late day owing to an overcrowded calendar, by amending the the objectionable section of the Act.

The Act of 1893, which takes precedence over the Act 1891, which stood repealed long before it was killed by the Supreme Court in its decision of last week, provides among other things as follows:

"In any city, incorporated town, school district, or union high school district which shall have voted to establish and maintain a high school, it shall be the duty of the High School Board therein to furnish to the authorities whose duty it is to levy taxes, on or before the second Monday of September, an estimate of the cost of purchasing a suitable lot, of procuring plans and specifications, and erecting a suitable building, of furnishing the same, and of fencing and ornamenting the grounds for the accommodation of the school, and of conducting the school for the school year. It shall be the duty of said Board, each and every year thereafter, to present to said authorities, on or before the second Monday of September, an estimate of the amount of money required for conducting the school for the school year.

"Should the High School Board of any city, incorporated town, school district, or union high school district refuse or neglect to make the estimate provided for in subdivision fourteen of this section, it shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Schools, upon the petition of five qualified electors thereof, to make such estimate."

The Act furthermore provides that if those whose duty it is to levy the tax, refuse or neglect to make the levy, it shall be the duty of the County Auditor to make such levy and add it to the tax roll of the High School district.

An Enjoyable Musical Treat.

The instrumental concert given by the Sonoma Valley Band at Weyl's Hall on Friday evening of last week brought out en masse the music-loving people of Sonoma and vicinity. The music rendered on this occasion was something that has never before been so successfully carried out by any band outside of the metropolis, and surprised many musical critics in the audience. The large hall was crowded to its utmost seating capacity by a fashionable audience, who warmly greeted the band with rounds of applause as each number was rendered. The entertainment concluded with a social hop, in which about one hundred couple participated. The following programme was presented:

March, "Manhattan Beach".....Sousa
Overture, "The Barber of Seville".....Rossini
Euphonium Solo, "Grand Fantasia".....

Mrs. Estes and family of San Francisco came up last Wednesday evening to spend a month at their cottage on Broadway.

Two shoe-makers while out in company were asked their profession. Says one of them, "I practice the heeling art." And "I," said the other, "labor for the good of men's soles."

Supervisor Thompson of this place returned last Sunday morning from San Francisco, where he had been in attendance for several days at the Road Commissioner's Convention as a delegate from Sonoma county.

Have your nest-boxes loose—not fastened to the house—so that you can take them outside to be cleaned. The same may be said of the roosts. It is in the nests that lice breed most rapidly, being assisted by the warmth from the hens. Keep the nests and roosts clean, and the work of keeping lice away will be easier.

J. T. Peters, the San Francisco real estate agent, went to Geyserville last week. Mr. Peters has charge of a piece of land near the above place which contains 600 acres belonging to Reddington & Co., wholesale druggists of San Francisco, which they have subdivided into small tracts of from 20 acres up.

Henry Weyl, Sr., one of Sonoma's oldest and most respected citizens, was serenaded by the Sonoma Valley Band last Tuesday evening, the occasion being the anniversary of his 70th birthday. The members of the band, after rendering some excellent music, were invited into the commodous residence where they partook of dainty refreshments and were royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Weyl.

Last Monday evening a very pleasant time was spent at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Stevenot in honor of Miss Allie Wood of Calaveras county. The evening was passed with vocal and instrumental music, playing of games, dancing and refreshments, and it was quite late when the guests departed for their homes, all thanking the host and hostess for the pleasant evening thus spent. The following were those present: Misses Stevenot, Allie Wood, Katie McDonell, Genie Berges, Clara Cheney, Stella Johnson, Jennie Gaines. Messrs. G. Phillips, C. H. Gaines, E. C. Donaldson, J. P. McDonell.

Jesse Burris had business in the metropolis several days this week.

Miss Bessie Knight and Chas. Champlin will graduate from the High School on June 8th.

Fred. T. Duhring of San Francisco was in town Wednesday looking after his interests in this place.

Misses Mamie and Maggie Church returned last Saturday from a pleasant visit with relatives in San Francisco.

Mr. J. Berges of Bakersfield and his sister Mrs. P. Garissere were visiting this week on the Berges farm near Sonoma.

Mrs. Archibald Cook returned to her parents' home in Schellville one day this week after spending several days in San Francisco.

True devotion consists not in a long face, regulation sighs and penitent words. It consists in devout deeds, in charitable words and in a sweet, tender, elevated and pure life that influences and betters every one who inhales the same atmosphere.

Dr. A. E. Osborne of the Home for Feeble Minded, and Mrs. Downing, matron of the same institution, have been spending several days at Duncan's Springs. They also visited the State Insane Asylum at Ukiah.

Mons. Alonzo de Clairmont, special agent for the Fidelity Mutual Aid Association of San Francisco, has been canvassing Sonoma Valley the past week for members. Representing one of the most reliable of aid associations, and, withal, having a pleasing address, he has been quite successful.

The Clover Club is the name of a new literary society which has been organized in Sonoma by the young students of the Grammar School. It now numbers fifteen members and it has for its object the development of the literary talents of its young members. The following officers were elected at their first meeting which was held last Wednesday at Union Hall: President, Miss Cecilia Granice; Vice President, Miss Maggie Sullivan; Secretary, Willie Sherman; Treasurer, Miss Elsie Appleton.

An ill-tempered woman is bad enough, but what is worse than a man with a nagging temper—the sort of man who wakens up in the morning feeling that his liver is out of order, and who by the time he reaches the breakfast table considers himself the most aggrieved person in the world. His wife may call his attention to the fact that some man they know has just gotten married; and he will answer, "If the poor devil had asked my advice, he never would have done it." Damper, No. 1. Then his oldest boy will say, "Father, you promised to show me about that sum before I went to school," and this beautiful creature will respond, "What do you suppose I work all day and nearly kill myself to make money to send you to school for, if I have got to teach you?" Damper No. 2. Then he will hear the two little girls laughing about the way a kitten is running after a ball, and he will get up and put the kitten out of the room, throw the ball out of the window and sit down again. The two little girls will look frightened to death, as they are, and one of them will probably begin to cry. Damper No. 3. By this time my gentleman's charming temper has so affected the atmosphere that nobody says anything, and the visitor beneath his roof makes up her mind to leave as soon as possible. And that man will go down town and in some way or other get rid of all this accumulated bile and crankiness, and he will return home expecting to find everybody as agreeable as possible.

SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE.

SONOMA, SATURDAY, JUNE 2d, 1894.

A JUMPER.

He jumped out of bed and jumped into his shoes.
He jumped for the paper that had the day's news;
When breakfast was o'er, he jumped quick as a cat
For his big outside coat and his everyday hat.

He jumped on the car that was going down town,
And he jumped to shake hands with his neighbor, Miss Brown.
He jumped from the car when the office was reached,
And jumped with alarm when the fire whistle screeched.

He jumped into harness to do his day's work,
And never was known one small duty to shirk.
When doing his work, if folks into him bumped,
He stopped not to argue, but over them jumped.

He jumped at each chance that the day brought to him,
To enlarge and expand his wallet's bright rim,
And when he got through at the end of the day
He jumped on the car that was going his way.

His wife and his children jumped at his return
To greet him and all the day's triumphs to learn,
And when the last prayer and good night had been said
Year in and year out he jumped into bed.

—Boston Globe.

Slow of Speech.

Grandfather Hilton was one of the slowest mortals in western Maine. His mind, his tongue and his legs all worked with extreme moderation, and it was a common saying among his townspeople that when Father Hilton laughed at a joke it was always at one he had heard two weeks before.

Few people could stop to talk with him, and one bold youth who said, "Well, Mr. Hilton, we'll have warmer weather soon," was said to have lost two trains waiting for this drawling answer; "W-a-a-a-l, 'twon't be much warmer till the snow comes off the mount'ns, 'n I calc'late the snow won't come off the mount'ns till it's a good deal warmer."

Across the street from the Hilton House were several "summer boarders." One day they came over, boiling with indignation, to complain of some noisy boys who had been driving cows to pasture at 4 o'clock in the morning.

"They wake us up every morning with their shouting," said the ladies excitedly. "Can't you tell me who they are so we can complain of them, Mr. Hilton?"

Jerusalem.

Jerusalem is not alone sacred to Jew and Christian. The city was the most revered by Mohammed before his flight to Mecca, and after the latter place it is the most holy of places to the true Moslem of today. The Moslem creed in substance is, "There is no God but God, and Mohammed is the prophet of God," but it acknowledges the great prophets to be Adam, Noah, Abraham, Jesus and Mohammed. In the Koran the story of Christ is dreadful and mixed if our acceptance be true. Mary is confounded with Miriam, the sister of Moses. Jesus is believed to have been a prophet from childhood and to have wrought miracles surpassing all other prophets, including Mohammed himself. He proclaimed the gospel and was sentenced to be crucified. Another was crucified in his stead, but God caused Jesus to die a few hours before taking him up to heaven.—New York Herald.

A Korean Bath.

M. A. B. de Guerville, the lecturer, told an amusing story of a happening during his stay in Korea while in that country as a commissioner in behalf of the United States for a Korean exhibit at the Chicago fair. According to M. de Guerville, the Korean women bathe but once a year, and the occasion is made an annual festival. They are escorted to the river with music and an acclaiming multitude. The funny part of it is that the year the commissioner was there the band chanced to be one that had been aboard a United States man-of-war, and his astonishment equaled his amusement to have the procession of ladies advance to the strains of "Marching Through Georgia."—New York Times.

Offenbach was the French Gilmore. He always tried to please rather than instruct, and of the 64 operas that he wrote in less than 25 years only one had the good fortune to last more than three or four years. His maxim was, "A grain of wit is better than a bushel of learning."

Oliver M. Babcock, in a lecture before the public school teachers of Chicago, predicted that before 1950 the city would have a population of 10,000,000, be the capital of the United States, include Waukegan, Elgin, Aurora and Joliet and extend to the Indiana state line.

Paganini would never let any one hear him tune his violin, and it is believed that many of the extremely peculiar effects he produced were obtained by his tuning the violin half a tone lower or higher than the ordinary pitch.

In a ton of Dead sea water there are 187 pounds of salt; Red sea, 93; Mediterranean, 85; Atlantic, 81; English channel, 72; Baltic, 18; Black sea, 26, and Caspian sea, 11.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

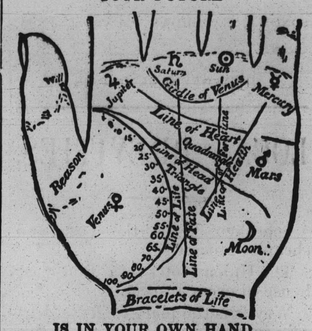
YOUR FUTURE



IS IN YOUR OWN HAND.

Palmistry assumes to tell what the lines in your hand indicate. It will amuse you, if nothing more. The above diagram almost explains itself. The length of the LINE OF LIFE indicates probable age to which you will live. Each BRACELET gives you thirty years. Well-marked LINE OF HEAD denotes brain power; clear LINE OF FORTUNE, fame or riches. Both combined mean success in life; but you must keep up with modern ideas to win it. You will find plenty of these in Demorest's Family Magazine, so attractively presented that every member of the family is entertained. It is a dozen magazines in one. A CLEAR LINE OF HEART bespeaks tenderness; a straight LINE OF FATE, peaceful life; the reverse if crooked. A well-defined LINE OF HEALTH spares you doctors' bills; so will the health hints in Demorest's. No other magazine publishes so many stories to interest the home circle. You will be subject to extremes of high spirits or despondency if you have the GIRDLE OF VENUS well marked; keep up your spirits by having Demorest's Magazine to read. By subscribing to it for 1894 you will receive a gallery of exquisite works of art of great value, besides the superb premium picture, 17x22 inches, "I'm a Daisy!" which is almost a real baby, and equal to the original oil painting which cost $300; and you will have a magazine that cannot be equaled by any in the world for its beautiful illustrations and subject matter, that will keep you posted on all the topics of the day, and all the fads, and different items of interest about the household, besides furnishing interesting reading matter, both grave and gay, for the whole family; and while Demorest's is not a fashion magazine, its fashion pages are perfect, and you get with it, free of cost, all the patterns you wish to use during the year, and in any size you choose. Send in your subscription at once, only $2.00, and you will really get over $25.00 in value. Address the publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York. If you are unacquainted with the Magazine, send for a specimen copy. A large QUADRANGLE means honesty; a large TRIANGLE, generosity; long FIRST DIVISION OF THUMB, strong will; LONG SECOND DIVISION, reasoning faculty. The MOUNT OF JUPITER betokens ambition; that of SATURN, prudence; the SUN, love of splendor; MARS, courage; MOON, imagination; VENUS, love of pleasure; and MERCURY, intelligence. Take our advice as above and you will be sure to possess the last and most valuable quality.
